GUESTS OF THE CONVENTION. RECEPTION OF BISHOPS COTTERILL AND HERZOG AND THE CANADIAN DEPUTATION BY THE EPIS

COPAL CONVENTION.

The second day's session of the House of Deputies of the Episcopal General Convention began vester-day at 10 s. m., at the church of the Holy Trinity. Morning prayer, as far us the cree was read by the Rev. Dr. Brown, of Cleveland. The Rev. Dr. Portes, of Charleston. S. C. concluded the prayer. Bishop Doane, pronounced the benediction. President Beardsley, clad in the ordinary academical gown, then came forward and called the Convention to order. Three bundred deputies answered the reli-call. The galleries had been gredenly filling up during the reading of the prayer, and, by this time, contained about 400 women and twenty or thirty elerginen. The sucretary amonuced that be had appointed the Rev. Dr. Anst ce, of Wentern New-York, the Rev. Louis Tschifley, of Louisville, Ky., and the Rev. Dr. Hoy, of Pennsylvania, as a assestant-secretaries. COPAL CONVENTION.

The president their named the standing committees, the constituent of which are as follows; Committees on the Cauch, the Rev. Dr. Van Deusen, of Central New-York; Committee on Expenses, the Rev. Dr. Shatines, of Massachusetts; Committee on Canons, the Rev. Dr. Crark, of Kentocky; Committee on Admodae ts to the Constitution, the Rev. Dr. Hall, of Breaklyn; Committee on the General Theological Seniour; the Rev. Dr. Shelton, of Western New-York; Committee on Elections, the Rev. Dr. Hall, of Breaklyn; Committee on the General Theological Seniour; the Rev. Dr. Shelton, of Western New-York; Committee on Elections, the Rev. Dr. Lowe, of thinos.

Resolutions were then passed inviting Bishop Cotterill, of Edinburgh; Bishop Herzeg, of Switzerland, and a deputation from the Camadian Chanco, which was said to be in the city, to attend the sessions of the House of Deputaes. Prederick A. White, the treaturer of the French Committee of the Auglo-Continental Secrety, was also given a similar invitation. The Rev. Dr. Norton, of Virginiz, offered a resolution directing the Committee on Canons to triquire into the sufficiency of the Genomics of the deposition of Dr. McCeskry, late Eiston of Michigan, from the massacy. This resolution caused considerable discussion, but a motion was finally made to lay it on the table. It was eventually referred to the Committee on Canons, A memorial was read from the missionary jurisdiction of New-Mexico and Arizona, asking that the House of Bishops nounlate, and the House of Deputies cleet, a bishop for that territory. Judge Prince stated that the resignation of Bishop Wilriams and the declination of the Rev. Dr. Knicker-ocker, of Minneapolis, had left the Territory without a bishop, and then offered a resolution, asking the House of Bishops to act immediately an the subject. The resolution was adopted. Some amendments to different canons of the courrel were ferred to the Convention should hold was next discussed. Amendment

THE ROUT AT FIVE FORKS. WITNESSES TELLING THE WARREN COURT WHAT SHIRIDAN'S CAVALRYMEN DID ON THE FIELD.

The first witness examined before the Warren Court of Inquiry yesterday was General Charles L. Fitzsugh, or Pitsburg, who commanded a brigade in General Merritt's cavalry division at the battle of Five Forks. His testimony was in part as follows: Five Forks. His testimony was in part as follows:

After forming on the morning of April 1 we pressed forward, diving the enemy back until we reached a post ion in roat of the enemy's line of works between 11 and 12 o'clock. At about 5 p. m. we took a more advanced position within sayly or eight yards of the enemy's line. From our position we saw the Fifth Corps coming down at the left, and as they advanced the relection of the enemy's line. From our position we saw the Fifth Corps coming down at the left, and as they advanced the relection between the battery was stationed at Five Forks. After we retarned from the pursuit of the enemy I met General Avres at the battery. Preparations were being made to turn the gains on the enemy to the northwest of Five Forks, and General Ayres said not to five as our own troops were in that direction. Before we settually crossed the works we saw the infantry coming down on the right.

As we moved for ward from Dinwiddie Court House on the morning of April 1. my brigade was on the extreme right of the division under General Custer. We came to a balt at the Gilliam house. After some hesitation we resolved to advance and learn the position of the robel forces. Crossing a ravine we received a heavy fire from a mattery stationed in a peach orecard that drove as back to the opposite side of the ravine. Orders came from General Custer to move further to the right and connect with General Frizhugh, which junction was effected about 11 o'clock. Desultory firing was kept up for some time before the final enarge was made. The firing from the case y's works was so severe at the time of the ossault I was afraid we would be repulsed. The gains at Five Forks were captured by men in our command. I saw some intantry, but no body of infantry.

Lieutenant Charles L. Sherman, late of the 1st Connecticut Cavalry, testified to similar effect. The Court was then adjourned until 11 a. m. to-day.

HORSES STILL SUFFERING.

HORSES STILL SUFFERING.

The epizooty continues to be the source of great annoyance to horses and their ownert. Many of the brutes afflicted with the disease had shown signs of improvement in the early part of the week, but the last ram storm retarded their progress toward recovery. There is very little actual change apparent in the condition of the horses at the various car stables. A visit to any one of these shabes is convincing proof that the animals are suffering badly. They specked and cough, and when several hundred of them are together they make the building ring with their inharmonious misery. Nearly all the animals can be worked in front of the cars; only a few cannot be used, and they have to be attended to with great care.

Herman Hopps, age thirteen, of No. 1,013 Sixthave, and Charles Bardwell, age thirteen, of No. 113 East Frittein-st., were arranged before Judge Smith, at the Jefferson Market Ponce Court, yesterday, and were enarged with having forcibly taken $85 from James J. Powers, age twelve, at Broadway and Twenty-sixth-st., Wednesday evening. The Powers boy had been sent by his father to pay his rent. The young robbers, after knocking Powers down and taking his money, went to the store of Charles Rizmann, at Broadway and Twenty-second-st., and for $65 bougut a rifle, two revolvers, two bowic-knives and fishing tackle. They kept $20 with which to go West. The boys were committed by Justice Smith in default of $1,000 bail.

FULTON MARKET AND CITY BONDS. At a special meeting of the Commissioners of the Sinking Fund, held in the Mayor's office yesterday, the question of rebuilding Fulton Market was discussed. A resolution was adopted instructing the Corporation Counsel to appear on behalf of the Commission in all legal proceedings, and take the Sosition that the report of the surveyor, recommending that the building be taken down at once, mending that the building be taken down at once, be not confirmed, on the ground that parts of the building can be made sufficiently secure. Controller Kelly introduced a resolution to the effect that in accordance with a recent ordinance passed by the Board of Aldermen, all city stocks and bonds hereafter issued shall be exempt from taxation for city and county ourposes, and shall not bear interest exceeding 4½ per cent. The resolution was laid over.

FRAUDULENT STOCK COMPANIES.

RDER OF THE POSTMASTER-GENERAL TO WITHHOLD THE MAIL OF CERTAIN EWINDLERS IN WAIL-ST.

Postmaster James was yesterday instructed by the Postmaster-General not to pay money orders or deliver registered letters addressed to R. J. Kosboth or to the Wall Street, Raifrond Bond and Stock Purchasing Company. Tots order is due to the action of the Low Committee of the Stock Exchange, a high last boon energetic in weeding out the fraudulent brokers or companies which by various devices cheat the public. Owing to the committee's efforts, the street has been comparatively clear, for about five montas, of such swindles as are now appearing. Kosboth sent out paraphiets proposing to form several mutual slock companies. Each was to have a capital of $5,000 in $5 shares, and he was to be treasurer and manager. With the capital stock he was to operate for the benefit of the companies. Monthly dividends were to be declared. A notice was premised of every transaction made, and a monthly statement was to be sent to every shareholder.

Kosboth began business at No. 58 Liberty-st. in a meanly furnished dark room on the upper floor. As subscriptions came in, the office was moved to No. 48 Broad-st., which, in its furnishings, at once made patent the fact that there was more money at hand. While Kosboth was thus flourishing, the Law Committee of the Stock Exchange received a number of imquiries concerning him, and put the case in the hands of its coansellors. Only offe monthly statement was made by him. It appears that 340 shares were held in one company, and a dividend of 75 cents per share was declared. These pretended transactions by the manager of the mutual stock company are alleged to be purely imaginary. In this class of companies the dividend is paid from the amount received from the subscribers; the remainder is the manager's profit. Kosboth suspended August 14, the result, he informed subscribers, of an unfortunate investment in the Central of New-Jersey.

The Wall Street Raidread Bend and Stock Purchasing Company, otherwise Lacey & Co., had an office at No. 58 Exchan THE MAIL OF CERTAIN EWINDLERS IN WALL-ST. Postmaster James was yesterday instructed by by-laws, no trustees or other officers, as required by law.

One of the subscribers in Kosboth's scheme said yesterday to a Tribuxe reporter: "I lived in Lowell, and on receipt of Kosboth's pamphlet invested a small sum. I received a certificate stating that the capital was to be operated with for the benefit of the shareholders, and that the certificate was redeemable at any time at the wish of the holder. I received one statement that a dividend of 75 cents had been deciared. I was kept waiting a joing time for the dividend, and when I called for a feturn of my money Kosboth told me he would do the best he could to satisfy me. Montgonery, the cierk, was sure I would be well treated. Kosboth was surrounded with bogus brokers, and I have been unable to get satis action."

DISCUSSING INTEROCEANIC CANALS. INTERESTING PAPER READ BEFORE THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CIVIL ENGINEERS.

At a meeting of the American Society of Civil Engineers Wednesday evening at No. 104 East Twentenbert, an interesting paper on "Interoceania Canals," by A. G. Menocal, was presented. It contained information derived from recent surveys in Nicaragaa. The reports of the surveys of the United states Expedition of 1872-773, stated that two lines were located for the canal between Lake Nicaragaa and the Pacific, and from the mouth of the River Lejas on the lake to the port of Brite; the other from the mouth of the River Dei Medio to the same terminal point on the Pacific. When the canal line extending from below the river San Carlos to Greviown was located in 1873, but little information concerning the topography of the country beyond the valley in close proximity to the river could be obtained. Mr. Menocal had occasion to survey the River San Juanitto and lower valley of the San sioulity of finding a more advantageous location for the canal route, so that diverging the line from the vicinity of the River San Juan at a point seven miles below the mouth of the San Carlos, it would reach the harbor of Greytown by an almost straight line. It was expected that this location would save several miles of canal, and dispense with the sharp curves made necessary by the abrupt bends of the river and high spurs projecting from the main hills in the interior to the water's edge. The proposed change is considered entirely practicable by Mr. Menocal. The distance saved will be about 74 miles as compared with the first location. Deducting the increase in the length of the canal on account of the change of site for dam and the total distance saved is 6 miles. The new location will be tound more favorable than the first, but assuming the cosa of excavation and embankment per mile to be the same for both lines, there would be a saving in construction of $1,317,336. The total length of the route f SOCIETY OF CIVIL ENGINEERS.

The aggregate savings of the several changes proposed by Mr. Menocai, amounted to $11,383,879 which deducted from the eriginal estimate, $52,577,718, makes the estimated cost of the work on the same basis, $41 193,839. The paper was priefly discussed by General George S. Greene, L. B. Ward, O. Chaunto and T. P. Kingsley.

leasible to run one large tannel under the river, or two small ones close together. I did not believe that it was practicable to use compressed air in a project of this kind, and I told Colonel Haskins no the first time I mee him. I was frequently consulted by Colonel Haskins, but in 1879 I declined to have any responsibility, as I did not believe in the use of compressed air in the tunnel. It is not possible to criticise such a work unless you have a full knowledge of the methods used in its construction. I think a caisson could have been used similar to the one now in use at the shaft. The temporary entrance should have been strongly braced, and the nearer the men came to the working shaft in the temporary entrance the less reliance should have been placed on the compressed air."

Colonel Haskins was recalled and read a statement, in which he claimed that the tunnel company was justified in its use of compressed air in the tunnel; that it had been used with perfect success for reduced when necessary.

Edward Reinhardt, the condemned wife murderer who is confined in the Richmond County Jail, is indignant at the report published that he had determined to cheat the gallows by starving himself to death. He says that he will keep to his promise, made the day he was convicted, that if he had to die he would try and meet his death like a man. To several of his visitors he has presented as keepsakes various articles, such as fancy walking sticks, eard baskets and match safes made by nimself. Sheriff Connor says tha Reinhardt's appetite was poor for a few days after he received the news that the Court of Appeals had affirmed his conviction, but that now he is taking his means regularly. A death watch has been piaced over him. A DOUBTFUL DECISION AT JEROME PARK. ONCAS GIVEN THE GRAND NATIONAL WHEN THE SPECTATORS THOUGHT MONITOR FIRST-UNA, LADY BOSEBERY, RIPPLE AND JUDGE MURRAY

THE OTHER WINNERS. There was much unhappiness at Jerom Park yesterday because the spectators and the judges could not agree about the winner of the Graud National Handicap. The junkes said Uncas came in first. The spectators were sure Monitor was the winner. Uncas was given the race, and his owner sorely affected the bookmakers. They will not forget Uncas and the surprising decision of the judges for many a day to come. But they are not a class that gets much sympathy in affliction. Some of them attempted outright thieving yesterday, and the American Jockey Club ought to suppress them. After it was known that Boardman would not start in the first race they continued to shout that they would bet 5 to 1 against bim. By the conditions of bookmaking every one who bet on the horse lost his money from the very fact of his not starting, and the efforts of these thieves to delude unwary people into betting on him were as bad as picking pockets. There are some homest bookmakers, and they should stop such robbery if the Jockey Club will not.

The day was deligatful, and the attendance good. Lady Rosebery's success in the Champague Stekes was decidedly unexpected. The twe-year-old Ripple ran a mile gallantly, and easily defeated the four-year-old Harold. Uan and Judge Murray won easy victories. Only three appeared in the first race, a selling affair for a purse of $400. The betting was 1 to 4 against Taytor's fil'y Uua (4 years, 98 pounds), 5 to 1 against Acker-man's horse Surge (ag. 6, 107), and 5 to 1 against Hart's horse Redman (aged, 102). Una led all the way, but it was necessary to whip her freely in the last furlong to keep h r well at work. She won by a length and a half in 2:001g, Surge second, three-quarters of a length before Redmau. Mr. Ackerman bought Usa for $1,300. A fine lot of youngsters contested the Coampagne Stakes, three-quarters of a mile for two-year olds, $50 each, half forfest, with $500 added, the second to receive $100. There were nine of them, representing the stacles of Pierre Lorillard, George L Lorillard, August Belmont, Charles Reed, and others. There were penalties for the winners of sweepstakes, but only Thora and Bonste Lizzie had to carry them, each having 114 pounds up. The rest carried the regular weights. Pierre Lorrillard's gray filly Spark was made the favorite, because on her last appearance she ran second to Knight Templar three-quarters of a mile in 1:14. Much money was put also on G. L. Lorillard's Sir Hugh, the winner of three races this year. The foll list of entries with the betting, was as follows: 2 to 1 against Pierre Lordlard's flily Spark, and 10 to 1 against the same owner's colt Merrimac; 3 to lagainst G. L. Leril-tard's gelding Sir Hugh, and 10 to lagainst the same owner's filly Topsey; 6 to 1 against Belmont's filly Lady Rosebery; six to one against Charles Reed's fliy Thora; 6 to 1 against Nelson's fliy Bonnie Lizzle; 7 to 1 against Lloyd's Virgil-Bunder filly; 12 to 1 against Chase's filly Malasine. The it, Bonnie Lizzie second, Sir Hugh third, Lady Rosebery fourth, Spark fifth and Taora almost left at the post. Lady Rosebery ran up very fast and got ahead of Malasine within a quarter of a mile. Mainsine cluing to her up to the middle of the second quarter, when she dropped back, and Spark rushed to second place, the rest bunched up very close. Lady Rosebery ran very well in the homestreten and gradustart was straggling, Malasine getting much the best of ran very well in the ually crew away, winning by two lengths in the good time-for the track-of 1:1812; Spark second, a neck before Bonnie Lizzie, she n neck before Thora, Sir Hugh a does aftia, Topsey sixth, Merrimae seventh, Malasine eighth, and the Lioyd filly hast, being pulled up when it was plain that she could not win. Thora and Bonnie Lizzte ran remarkably well, carrying 7 pounds penalty naci. Indeed, if Taora had got away on even terms with the rest it seems probable flust she would have won. A PHYSICIAN'S USE OF MORPHINE.

Some boys who were playing at Ninth-st and Second-ave, about 10 o'clock Wednesday night saw a well-dressed man, apparently much intoxicated, being led along the street by a woman. While they looked the woman suddenly left the man, and a moment afterward two men, roughly clad, approached and took charge of him. They led him along the street a short distance, possessed themselves of his gold watch and chain and ran away. Realizing that a robbery had been con mitted, the boys went to the man and helped him to the office of Dr. Strong, at No. 150 Second-ave. The physician discovered that the man was under the influence a powerful drug. In the man's pockets were found bottles containing morphine. He was removed to Belle vue Hospital in a critical condition. It was learned that he was Dr. Clinton Atkinson, a physician of No. 76 East Ninth-st. The ponce, who were informed of the case, believed that he had attempted suicide, but his father and brother, who live at No. 41 East father and brother, who live at No. 41 East Ninth-st., would not entertain that theory. The brother said that Dr. Atkinson had been subject to attacks of neuralgia, and when suffering from that complaint had been accustomed to use norphine. His belief was that the Doctor had been suffering from his old complaint and had accidentally taken a larger dose of the drug than usual. The police are endeavering to find the men who stole the physician's watch and eman.
